EV for Workspace

Across the US, businesses are contributing to a greener America by supporting sustainable commuting options for their employees. Verdek can help achieve your company's sustainability goals by enabling your workers to charge their electric vehicles (EVs) while on the job.

When you choose Verdek Green Technologies for your parking facility, you not only help your EV-owning employees charge their vehicles while on the job, but you also attract a new generation of young eco-conscious professionals wanting clean transportation solutions.

Build an Environment Centered Brand

Cement your company's image as pro-environment by placing your logo on our charging stations.

Achieve Sustainability Goals

Project an eco-conscious identity for your company and prove its willingness to stay on top of—or even exceed—industry standards.

Increase Employee Satisfaction

Let your employees know they work for a business with values that go beyond your bottom line.
